Open AI's Miss Rattles Wall Street

US markets fell after Open AI missed its internal targets for revenue and user growth. The news sparked a sell-off in AI-linked stocks—including chipmakers Nvidia and Broadcom—as investors questioned whether massive infrastructure investments are delivering expected returns.

Oracle, which holds a $300 billion five-year computing partnership with Open AI, fell 4%; Broadcom dropped 4%; and Nvidia slid more than 1%. Losses in the Dow were partially offset by Coca-Cola shares following better-than-expected earnings.

Coca-Cola shares surged 5% after new CEO Henrique Braun delivered better-than-expected earnings and outlined a strategy centred on 1.25-litre portions and mini cans to appeal to budget-conscious consumers.

BP posted Q1 profit of roughly $3.2 billion, more than double year-ago levels, as the Iran conflict and a near-shutdown of the Strait of Hormuz drove Brent crude prices. U.S. gasoline prices hit $4.18 per gallon Tuesday—the highest since Russia's 2022 invasion of Ukraine.

The United Arab Emirates will exit OPEC on May 1—a significant blow to the cartel that coordinates output among the world's largest oil producers, particularly in the Middle East.

U.S. consumer confidence rose to 92.8 in April 2026, its highest reading of the year, as improved expectations for pay and job availability lifted sentiment despite lingering geopolitical tensions, according to the Conference Board.

The Federal Reserve opened its two-day policy meeting and is widely expected to hold rates steady. Markets will closely review Chairman Jerome Powell's commentary for signals on the inflation and growth outlook, particularly as rising oil prices tied to Middle East tensions cloud the picture.

The rupee depreciated 35 paise against Asian peers, closing at a one-month low of 94.54, fueled by rising crude prices, risk-off sentiment, and expected dollar demand from corporate remittances.

Despite paring some gains toward the close, Nifty concluded the April series with a whopping 7.5% rise, the strongest series-to-series gain since December 2023. The Bank Nifty mirrored this trend, outperforming with a gain exceeding 10%, the highest since July 2022.

Nifty faced renewed selling at higher levels yesterday, dropping 97 points to close at 23995. Key resistance has emerged at 24197, now acting as an immediate hurdle, while support holds firm around 23800.

Key Events

China's factory activity set to expand at a slower clip in April: Reuters poll

China's factory activity likely grew at a slower pace in April as rising cost pressures stemming from the Middle East conflict test Beijing's reliance on manufacturing to underpin economic growth.

The official manufacturing purchasing managers' index (PMI) is expected to drop to 50.1 from 50.4 in March, according to the median forecast in a Reuters poll of 27 economists.

The April PMI reading, based on a National Bureau of Statistics survey of companies and set to be released on Thursday, will offer a fresh gauge of how the world's second-largest economy is faring as the U.S.-Israeli war on Iran jolts energy markets and disrupts supply chains.

Canada says 2025/26 deficit was less than expected, trims growth forecasts

The Canadian government said the 2025/26 budget deficit would be lower than estimated and trimmed its growth forecasts for the next two fiscal years.

In a spring economic statement, the finance ministry said the 2025/26 deficit would be C$66.9 billion, less than the C$78.3 billion shortfall predicted in the November 2025 budget.

The improved figures in part reflect measures to contain spending as well as increased revenues from the sale of crude oil, it said.

Real GDP growth in 2026 is seen at 1.1% compared to the 1.2% forecast in November and in 2027 growth is put at 1.9%, down from 2.0%. In 2028 growth is seen unchanged at 1.9% and staying at that level in 2029, down from 2.0%.

US consumer confidence unexpectedly improves, but higher gasoline prices still a worry

U.S. consumer confidence unexpectedly edged higher in April amid a rally in share prices following a ceasefire in the war with Iran and improved perceptions of the labor market, helping to ease households' financial worries for now.

Despite the rise in confidence to a four-month high, the survey from the Conference Board on Tuesday showed higher gasoline prices stemming from the U.S.-Israeli conflict with Iran remained a source of concern for consumers.

Fewer planned vacations over the next six months and the share of those intending to drive to their holiday destinations was the lowest since April 2020, when the nation was in the throes of the first wave of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Chart with Interesting Observations

India's Market: Global in Reach, Local in Depth

- India has emerged as the fifth-largest listed equity market globally by total market capitalisation, though it still trails far behind the United States in absolute scale. The U.S. equity market's total market cap is roughly 15 times larger than India's, reflecting not only deeper capital markets but also the presence of globally dominant corporations across technology, finance, and consumer sectors. When adjusted on a per capita basis, the gap becomes even more pronounced: U.S. market capitalisation per person is approximately 60–65 times higher than India's, underscoring differences in income levels, financialization of savings, and retail participation.
- In terms of ownership structure, both markets show some similarities. Roughly a quarter of listed equities are held by foreign institutional investors (FIIs) and promoters in each case, indicating a comparable level of concentrated and cross-border ownership. Additionally, companies in both markets derive a significant share of their revenues from international operations, very broadly around one-third, highlighting the global integration of large listed firms, even in India's case, where domestic demand remains a major driver.
